Objectives:

- A follow-up interview and consultation of the system.

Interviewer: What is the passing score for the theoretical driving course (TDC) exam for both professional and non-professional driver's license applications.

Interviewee: 80% of the total number of questions.

Interviewer: What type of transmission is used in taking Practical Driving Course (PDC)?

Interviewee: It depends on the student if they want to enroll for Automatic or Manual transmission.

Interviewer: As an instructor/assessor how will you arrange the following missions?

Interviewee:

1. BLOWBAGETS
2. Traffic Signal Rules
3. Right of Way
4. Three-Point Turn
5. Tailgating
6. Perpendicular Parking
7. Back-In Angle Parking
8. Parallel Parking

Interviewer: What are the controls of the automatic transmission, and manual transmission, and what are their differences?

Interviewee:

Transmission	Controls	Additional Notes
Automatic	Brakes	Has 2 Pedals
	Accelerator	Less Shifting
	Shifter
	Handbrake
Manual	Clutch	Has 3 Pedals
	Brakes	More Shifting
	Accelerator
	Shifter
	Handbrake

Interviewer: What is/are the difference/s between taking manual and automatic transmission in terms of licensing?

Interviewee: When you take automatic transmission your license will only be applicable in driving automatic cars whilst when you take manual transmission you can both drive the automatic and manual cars.

Interviewer: Does the assessor have a specific outline for conducting the assessment for the practical driving course (PDC)?

Interviewee: Yes, we have but we follow it or not depending on the assessor and budget of the student or if they have the initial background on driving.

Interviewer: Do you have a specific location when conducting the assessment for the practical driving course (PDC)?

Interviewee: Yes, we have a designated location, but it is in the other branch, where we conduct our assessment on the highway to introduce the student to real-life situations when driving on the road.
